TUESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 20.

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING WORLD (Including Postage).

PER YEAR.....83.50 VOL. 30.....NO. 10,227 Fatered at the Post-Office at New York as second-class

IN BRANCH OFFICES WORLD UPTOWN OFFICE-1267 BROADWAY, be-

WORLD UPTOWN OFFICE-1267 BROADWAY, DE-31st and 32d sts., New YOTK. BROOKLYN-359 FULTON ST. HARLEM-News Department, 150 East 1257H ST.; advertissments at 237 East 1157H ST. PHILADELPHIA, PA.— LENGER BUILDING, 112 SOUTH ST. WASHING-TON-610 14TH ST. LONDON OFFICE-32 COCKSPUR ST., TRAFALGAR

.4.

SQUARE.

FREE MESSENGER SERVICE.

EVERY OFFICE OF THE MUTUAL DISTRICT TELEGRAPH COMPANY IS AUTHORIZED TO ACCEPT WANTS FOR THE WORLD.

RVERY MUTUAL DISTRICT CALL BOX CAN CHARGE WILL BE MADE FOR MESSENGER SERVICE

All Messenger Boys of the Mutual District Co are Provided with Rate Cards and will take WORLD Ads.at Office Prices

Mutual District Messenger Co.'s Offices. 1 Broadway 200 5th ave., 45 Broadway 197 5th ave., 45 Broadway 197 5th ave., 841 Broadway 763 Medicon ave. 104 Broadway 763 Medicon ave.

Unimpeachable Testimony.

MAY 7TH, 1889 FTER a thorough examination of the Circulation Books, Press and Mail Room Reports, and News. dealers' Accounts of the NEW YORK WORLD, as well as the inderesd creeks given in payment therefor, we are convinced, and certify, that there were Printed and Actually Circulated during the month of March, 1849, a total of TEN MILLION SEVEN HUNDRED AND NINE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED AND TWENTY (10,701,520) COMPLETE COPIES OF THE WORLD."

W. A. CAMP.

MAD."

W. A. CAMP.

Manager of the New York Clearing-House.
O. D. BALDWIN.

President of the American Loan and Trust Co.
THOS. L. JAMES.

President of the Lucciu National Bank.

A SIMPLE PROBLEM:

31.) 10.709.520(345.468

PRINTED DAILY DURING THE 345,468

AVERAGE DAILY CIRCULA- 354,861

LANDLORDS' DOLLARS AND TENANTS' LIVES. How often must such horrors as the Seventh avenue fire be repeated before wicked negligence in the matter of fire-escapes shall be punished as it deserves?

Are the landlords' dollars of more moment than tenants' lives?

Now is the best time to have these questions clearly answered. There is still room in prison for law-breakers. The men who month after month let sixty persons live in that death-trap in Seventh avenue, when a hundred or two of dollars would have insured them perfect safety, are law-breakers, or

So, too, are the inspectors, whose duty it is to see that proper escapes are provided. What crime of neglect would an examina tion of all the buildings in New York

It is time the law should be enforced and the penalty of breaking it paid to the full. As for SNYDER, the beanery-keeper, if the heinous crime of which he is suspected be proved upon him, he merits not an iota of

ARE THEY ALL UNDER A SPELL?

Do not forget what Sheriff Flack's lawyer said: "Things are quieting down admirably."

It seems he knew what he was talking about, and that in his list of things that are 'quieting down" he includged Judges of the Common Pleas Court, as well as sheriffs. justices, clerks, referees, lawyers, witnesses and all the other factors in the noble machine y of New York justice,

Here was an outrage done. Judge Book. STAYER complained that his court had been tricked. Has the magic of politics been wrought upon him. He has departed in the midst of a ciamor for investigation. He comes not back. He answers not. What are the other judges going to do about it? bit down and let this insult to their ermine go unanswered? It is a test case.

THEY D BETTER NOT WHISTLE YET. John L. it among friends again. He has been give ed with red fire and music, and talks as through all trouble with Gov. Lowey was at La end. Killsain, thus relieved in mind, is a mg bouth to make a clean broast and throw himself on the mercy of the Court. It may be both are fooling themselves about the lemency of the Mississippi authorities. Perdon, at this juncture, would tultify Gov. Lowny as badly as to have done nothing at all.

The poor taxpayers at Purvis, who had to rhell out $100 a day for the Court that convicted Sullivan, will not relish his release, ner will minor perties to the fight enjoy paying fines in good hard coin if John L. goes scot free.

The Big Fellow considers the Mississippi legal battle altogether the best advertisement he ever had, but he may change his mind about it later.

WHAT A FIGHT IT IS!

That was a brave struggle on the Boston ball grounds yesterday. The luck, however, was with the home team. Their tutelar deity, the genius of the bean, foresaw that the day was a vital one for Boston. He was out in full panoply and power, and succeeded in turning certain defeat into a drawn battle.

But the war-scarred Giants have camped on his trail. Wait till they get out of their splints and bandages.

By the way, it's a pretty fight, this for the League pennant of 1889.

A SORRY STATE OF THINGS.

The bungler seems to be rampant in the af fairs of ill-fated Johnstown. The cleaning up force is being reduced now, when, as th despatches say. "there are thou-ands o cellars that are not yet cleaned, and there ar dead bodies in hundreds of them." There even fear that Gov. BEAVER will order its dis continuance altogether.

And so the fith left by the great flood reeks there, breeding disease, and corpses, hidden by freaks of the rushing waters, fester | Sick Baby Fund, which was largely attended in the Summer heat.

Oh, Spirit of Red Tape! You have many things to answer for.

NO CHARGE FOR THE ADVICE.

The enemy who advertised that Mayor WHEELWRIGHT, of Tacoma, wanted wives for his citizens, scored a hard one on the head of that thriving municipality. He is flooded with letters from man-hunting maids everywhere.

The Mayor had better turn the joke to practical account, take the letters and start a sure-enough matrimonial agency, pay some useful political servant a clerk's fat salary out of the commissions, denste the balance to a city charity and so populate the Territory and "build himself an everlasting fame."

The question of finances for the Fair is a vital one just now. Nothing venture, nothing have. The game will be worth the candle. Come down, ye wealthy ones.

The Valkyrie seems to be just fast enough to lose. She was a beautiful second in the Albert Yacht Club regatta yesterday.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND POSTMASTERS.

Chief Hendeman Clarkson Summarizes the Work of His Department.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.-"The number of hanges under the Post-Office Department, since the present Administration took charge, has been about 15,000," said Acting Postmaster-General Clarkson to-day. "The vacancies have occurred from various causes, principally resignations and removals. About one out of three of the Democratic postmasters has resigned, the number of resignations increasing as the class of offices grew smaller. Unless charges have been preferred by Post-Office Inspectors, Presidential postmasters have been permitted to serve out their terms. However, a good many removals have been made on account of charges. In the case of fourth-class offices a great many changes have been made on account of improper flocation. Sometimes the post-office would be in an out-of-the-way place. "Under a Democratic administration many fourth-class post-offices were maintained in saloons without objection from the Post-Office Department. Fostmaster-General Wanamaker have been made in every instance where such cases have been called to the notice of the Department. So long as Mr. Wanamaker presides over this Department, no person with temperance views will be compelled to get his mail out of saloons. esigned, the number of resignations increas-

NO DOUBT IN THE PUBLIC MIND.

Why Is It Such Hard Work for Gov. Hill to Give Meyer a Fair Show? To the Editor of the Evening World:

It seems to be very hard for Gov. Hill to vindicate John Meyer's name. What is the trouble? Is there perhaps any doubt in his mind as to the truth of the testimony given? There is sone whatever in the minds of the people. Prompt attention to this matter is necessary. Respectfully BERNHARD WITTMER.

Light Needed in East River Park,

To the Editor of The Evening World

Could you in any way assist to stirect the atention of the Park Commissioners towards East River Park? The same is in an excellent East fiver Park? The same is in an excellent condition, and is now visited by throngs of people at night to enjoy a fresh breeze. There is but one thing missing—light. On entering the park a number of steps lead down to the water, but such an impenetrable darkness hangs over them that visitors must feel their way and often stumble. Would it not be advisable to illuminate before some persons are migraed by a fail?

207 East Eighty-third street.

A Harlem Hall Wanted. asks Editor of The Evening World

We intend to hold an entertainment for the Babies' Fund, and would like to know if some kind hall-owner would allow us to hold the entertainment in their hall, and kindly oblige.

HABLEST GIBLS,
P. S.—Can answer in The Evening World.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES.

Sergts. Jeremiah Dee and Timothy Reans have seen placed upon the retired list. Capt. Schley thinks that the cruiser Baltimore will develop 1.060 have power more than the 9,000 required by the contract. Assistant Secretary Bussey rules that a dishonors of letterse does not disqualify a veteran for claim-

Cart. H. W. Bubbell has been ordered to join his battery. Surgeon Porter, being State health officer of Flor-ion any be allowed to remain there to ward off yel-low fever.

____ A Mother's Love.

Indignant Mother-You haven't given the child any prize. Teacher-Alas! he has been persistently

I wouldn't sell it for anything in the My great-grandfather used to maul my great-grandmother with it.

How He Knew.

[From Tente.] Sumway-Pineapples are very cheap now. Fangle-How do you know? Have you been buying any?
"No: but they are on our boarding-house table three times a day."

AID FOR THE BABIES.

Many Willing Workers Assist the Good Cause.

Entertainments and Fairs Given for the Fund.

Nell Nelson Finds Many Cases Where

THE CONTRIBUTIONS

26	Already acknowledged	$5,413.
	Broodlyn Fair.	9,1
	Bell and Hammer	100
	Two King's Sons.	1.0
	8. C	3.1
	District Messengers	3.
f.	Kittie Moore.
	Fractitie	22
g-	Flower sale	7.1
	C. B. H	111
10	R. Park	1.3
of	Jeannette
٠.	S. and L. M.	17.
re	Mrs. Elle K	4 900
	Mrs. Ella K Ex-Turner Cadots	618
18	Brooklyn Fair.	90.
H-	Drooklyn Patt.	14.50
13+	20 1 21 2 20 2

To the Editor of The Evening World: Six little girls held a fair at 246 Fifth ave nue, South Brook yn, Aug. 16 and 17, for the by the residents of that locality. Donations of confectionery, cakes, ice-cream and fancy articles were plentiful, showing that the work had many sympathizers. The children worked day and night for ten consecutive days to make the fair a success, which re sulted in the munificent sum of $28.18. The following are the names of the girls.

CLARA J. BAKER, 14, LIZZIE FEIDER, 14, ESSIE GORMAN, 13. LOBETTO O'NEIL, 12, OLLIE BAKER, 11.

I am only a little girl, eleven years old. and for a week and a half I have been collecting a small contribution from a few of my friends to help save some poor sick baby that you are striving to save, and I hope it will do some good, as I and my friends say,

KITTIE PEARL MOORE, 37 Metropolitan avenue, Brooklyn,

They Sold Flowers. Inclosed please find check for $7, proceeds from the sale of flowers by the under-signed

MAMIE MEASIN, NELLIE MEAKIN, AGNES RIPLEY, MABEL RIPLEY. of New York City. LULU WARDNER, KITTY WARDNER, Rainbow, N. Y.

Money and Clothing. To the Editor of The Econing World: Please find inclosed $9, the proceeds of fair managed by four little children and held in Brooklyn Aug. 14. Hoping our efforts may prove of some benefit to the sick babies, and the good work will continue,

ANNIE ENGLAND, ten years, JOHNNIE ENGLAND, thirteen years. MAMIE DU MOULIN, twelve years. EDITH DU MOULIN, ten years.

Committee. their mammas, which have been given in care of Dr. Foster. A Little Boy's Collection. To the Editor of The Evening World:

Inclosed please find $3.60 for the poo Babics' Fund, collected by a little boy.

To the Editor of The Econing World:
Find inclosed $2 towards helping a little

In the Editor of The Evening World:
Inclosed please find our mite towards the Sick B-by Fund. Hope it will relieve some of them from further suffering.

MESSENGERS FIRST DISTRICT AMERICAN DIS TRICT TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

Here we are again, Inclosed find our fourth contribution to the Sick Baby Fund. It is only 20 cents, but we feel that by constant and regular contribution of our winvain for the winnings of some of those who profess to play this or that game simply for aniusement and care little for the amount

By small sums you have succeeded in cresting a large fund, and that should be an incentive to those who can send but little to send it.

Welcome Ocean Sail Tickets. .

D. F. Robertson, Secretary of the New York Juvenile Guardian Society, sends tickets by which five hundred women and children can enjoy an ocean sail to-morrow. The it kets will be distributed by the free physicians, and will gladden many hearts, Mother, Here is the record Dr. J. J. Smith makes of a morning's work among the poor; diarrhos: a months diarrhos. 140 East Thirty-ninth street, 14 months, diarrhos. 234 years, bandy legs; 13 month, diarrhos. 402 East Twenty-ninth street, 1 year, whooping cough; 24e years, whooping cough; 35 years, consumption.

400 East Twenty-fourth street, 15 years, whooping east twenty-fourth street, 15 years.

ula; 2 months, bronchitis; 10 months, whoop- she handles the axe like one long acquainted locality for donations. They expect to os First avenue, 15 months, diarrhos; 11 sk; diarrhos; 20 months, scrofuls; 15

hooping cough. 411 East Twenty-ninth street. 2 years, diarrhoes: 3 years, bronchitis: 5 years, whooping cough; 5% years, whooping cough; 4 years, whooping cough; 15 months, bronchitis; 3 in any change of position rest or case. She wears a faded calico dress, opened at the nock and belt for comfort; some worn

Not a murmur of complaint escapes her, although the marks where her teeth have been set are pla nly visible in the lower sip. Her feet are frightfully swollen, the circumference o either limb being twice the natural size, and the bandage about one, where the surgeon's knife has made an incision, is

When Dr. Smith asks if he can help her in any way, she says, with a beseeching look in her dim, sunken eyes, "Not unless you kill me. For God's sake, doctor, give me a dose of something, and let me out of agony."

"My good woman, you ought to let me send you to the hospital." "No. I've been there. They told me there was no cure for me, and I'd rather die on her sofa, and God, in his goodness, will slake my thirst," A paltry dollar is stealfhily laid behind the brown pitcher on the table, while the good Samaritan tells us of the restless nights and comfortless days of the invalid, and makes apologies for her humble little home and her inability to do more. She tells us: "Annie gave up her room and sold the furniture to pay the rent, but I could not see her put into the street, and so I brought her in here and gave her the lounge. She is very patient and asks for nothing, and only wants a sip of milk now and then. She can't eat anything, and she hasn't a dollar in the world, nor a triend to whom she can go for the loan of a nightgown or the price of a

On First avenue we preach the doctrine of soap and water; make love to dirty faces for the purpose of flattering them into a wash basin, cross grimy, honest, caressing, dimpled little-hands with pennies and dimes, the price of a hair cut; warn small boys against the evils of cigarettes and tobacco, and suggest to mefficient mothers inprovements in house-cleaning, washing, cooking and marketing.

The doctor gives lessons on bathing, soupmaking and tea-brewing. We find shady corners on the housetops to which poor mothers and sick babies are referred for the and fourteen years respectively, surround cool, refreshing breeze, which numerous circumstances prevent them from getting on the

The children are as wild as deer and show in manner and action their usage to ill treatment. A little girl with a small ankle, smothered in bandages, runs screaming down First avenue from the doctor; a round-faced juvenile, whose head is checkered with scars has some distressing sores about his nose and lips, which the mother presumably has dusted with flour.

The little fellow resists the doctor, and to scape him flies through the hall and scampers tive. down cellar. He is followed and carried up up to the daylight, and after we have soothed his fears and dried his frightened eyes his diminutive form is still shaking with emo-

In the same hall a tot of three years runs about with a nursing bottle in her thin, white hands, and the tube in her mouth, through which the harmless liquid is industriously she doesn't wean her. " Why should I wean her? Because other babies are weaned? Well, she is all right as she is, and she shall have the bottle till she is sixteen if she wants it.

In East Thirty-eighth street we come upor idly at the throng in the street below. The hall doors are crowded with men smoking bad tobacco, with gosstning women, some of them nursing babies, and with little girls knitting edging for pillow-cases,

On the sidewalk, prone upon the stones, are the infants and testhing children, some of them mosning plaintively, and in nearly every instance with the lineaments of disease and starvation faintly but distinctly

Children with naked limbs, tattooed with the hives, smirched feet and padid faces, cross and recross the streets, some carrying hugo market baskets with a five-cent lost and a quart of potatoes in the bottom; others carrying attenuated cats or brutalized dolls, and now and then a young innocent bearing a pail of beer. In the gutter sit two little sisters with heads like Haphael angels, chopping wood. A smele garment is all their attire includes and the black stream that trickles to the sewer passes so very near the white leg of the elder | Drayfus, Lilian Goodkind, Gertie Kaufman girl as to give it the appearance by contrast with its use. There are two little children, one and a balran, three years old, in a box of a ro m where the mother sits combing her hair. Her tresses fall about her 1 ke a drapery of spun copper, and her ace is the p cture of woe. In bearing and manuer she resents our visit as in rosive, calls the pale, puny children to her knee when the doctor attempts to look at them, and to my question she replies;

'I will share my pleasures with others, but not my sorrows. Grief is too sacred for traffic. You c n't heip me." We turn away, and later are informed what we have ourselves discovered, that she is "better than the general run and very proud. That her little ones are sick, and that n body ever goes to her door but the letter man."

Standing on the curbstone, wondering how to reach the heart of this cold, lofty mother, a little girl comes up the street, dragging a scap-box on wheels, which she puts up at

Under a towel are the crumb, crust and bones of charity. The little cart is emptied of its miscellaneous contents into a tin pan, too fierce to be quenched, and una le to find by a tall, spare woman, with the hollowness of want in her face and voice, and the hores

With a delicate, loving touch she show the doctor the little limbs, wasted almost to sticks, and the claw-like tiny hands that six holds up for his critical eyes, and then raises to her mouth and after kissing them both says: "My precious baby. Mother's bab boy. God hold you in the hollow of his hand."

Then, tucking the faded shawl about the blue-eved child, she lays her hand tenderl on the litt'e girl's face, calls her "my bray child," and tells her " to keep in the shad and the breeze and not let anything hur him. "

As the rude carriage moves off the lov balf-stifled, plaintive, but not complaining cry of the child, adds to the misery of th mother who sinks despairingly on the door step, rests her face in her hand and follow the mimic cortege with her eyes until it ha turned the corner.

vue, God bless him, who cares for him, and he says the strength and beauty of his lif will come back with the cool weather." With reluctance she allows a bit of money to remain in her hand for the milk and bread her children are pining for. At another house we encounter Aggie, whose life is made miserable by an ulcerating tooth, and one side of her face is so swollen that her eye seems to be buried, and to add to disfigurement the poultice which the simple-minded mother applied the night before

Aggie takes us to her mother, a slim woman, who has been pulled down by the cares of thirteen children. Three are dead, but the other ten live with the parents in the second story of a frame building. Seven The Son of Beecher's Great Friend Sent to girls, two, six, seven, ten, twelve, thirteen the doctor and watch him as he examines the face and mouth of their suffering sister

Aggie. We promise to write her a letter, giving the now lost address of the dentist who volunteers to treat the teeth of the poor sick children met with by The Evening World corps the editor the promised help may be secured for the seven little sisters. The last penny is bestowed on a woman in

She been up since 5 o'clock scrubbing her rooms, which are as neat as a pin. Her babe, fourteen months old, is in the clutches of that dreaded scourge of infancy, Summer complaint, and another little one, two and a half years, has bowed legs. The doctor prescribes for the babe, refers the crooked limbs to Dr. Sylvester, in Bellevue, and makes an appointment for the father at his office.

NELL NELSON. Innamuch as You Have Done It Unto These," True love for the

All who suffer In want and weet Broken hearts Beneath some blow: Tollers wearily Earning a mite. Secking a couch Of rage at night; Of high degree. The bonded slave, The rich and free-All are brothers

And distressed, and more than they Shalt thon be blest, and in it thou May'st find from thine own sorrow rest. WILLIAM EDWARD PENNY.

Preparing for a Fair.

and Bella Kaufman, have obtained the use of the private dwelling 1083 Lexington avenue. through the kindness of T. Scott & Scn. The men there let us take it. We're getting real estate agents, of 1273 Third avenue. a lot. Going to wash the clothes for our They intend giving a fair on Aug. 29, 30, 31 mother. She's gone away with the baby to for the benefit of the poor sick babies. They the ocean," and although not yet in her teens are canvassing all the stores in the above realize quite a sum of money for the sufferers. All donations for the fair an be sent to the residence of Miss Minnie Drevfus, 170 East Seventy-fourth street.

THE KIND-HEARTED DRUGGISTS.

They Are Appreciated. Several more druggists have come forward with offers to put up, free of charge, prescriptions written by Evening World physicians. As many of the people visited cannot afford to pay the merest trifle for medicines. even when absolutely needed to save a child's life, the value of these offers to furnish free drugs can be more readily imagined than described. Among those who offer to fill prescriptions at cost or, in extreme cases, gratis

Gans, apothecary, southeast corner of Ninety-second street and Ninth avenue. Winters's pharmacy, 307 Manhattan avenue, Brooklyn, Henry Hemershlag, North Second street, corner of Berry, Brooklyn. An instance of how the free prescriptions are appreciated will be found in the accompanying statement from Messrs. Doc, Bounell of destitution in her dress and shoes. The box emptied, she brushes out the crumbs, iines it with a cairo apron and lays in the bottom a little pillow, from which all the ease and feathers seem to have shrunken, and then goes into the house for a baby.

It is a small child, not a year old, whose whole life has been a struggle agains the encroachments of sickness, want and hunger.

As the mother winds the remnant of her shawlabout the form of her dying child the brilliant eyes look into her own, and in that tender, meaning language that only mother hood and in ancy understand respond to the pet names she calls him.

Look Father of the Ecenny World:

We take plea ure in sending you, as requised.

We take plea ure in sending you, as requised.

We take plea ure in sending you, as requised.

We take plea ure in sending you, as requised.

These Evanisa Wonld physicians, which were put up by as free of charge. These two but the poor in this vicinity. Many were so much hencified by the med cine prescribed for the promited by the med cine prescribed for the poor in this vicinity. Many were so much hencified by the med cine prescribed for the poor in this vicinity. Many were so many she could be not charge, by receive the promited by the med cine prescribed for the poor in this vicinity. Many were so many she could be not child, and the poor in this vicinity. Many were so many she could be not child, and the poor in this vicinity. Many were so many she could be not child the poor in the vicinity. Many were so many she of the poor in this vicinity. Many were so many she could be not child the poor in this vicinity. Many were so many she could be not child the poor in this vicinity. Many were so many she could be not child the poor in this vicinity. Many were so many she could be not child the poor in this vicinity. Many were so many she could be not child the poor in this vicinity. Many were so many she could be not child the poor in this vicinity. Many were so many she could be not child the poor in this vicinity. Many w

No. Nein P. a. serip- tions.	Date.	Dactor.	No. Pe- mete- als,	Date.		Doctor,
- 5	July 13					Gillesp
12	July 15	Gilleapie		1
5	July 17	Gille-pie	- 62	July	17	Gillesp
4		Gillespie	ĩ	July		Gillesp
3	July 19	Gillespie	- 10	444	-01	of seasoning.
10	July 20	Gillespie	4	July	20	Gillesp
:1	July 22	Gillespie.	1	July	1212	Gillesp
- 6		Gillespie	700		7252	L
.22	July 24	Gillespie	- 2	July	22.5	Gillesp
- 3		Gille-me	- 23	July	22.7	Gillesp
4	July 26	Gillespie
5		Gillespie		1		1
8	Ang. 1	Gillespie	10	Aug.		Gillesp
3	Aug. 2		-	75.1136.4		current
3		Gillespie	1	Aug.	75	Gillesp
ï		Gillespie	1.0	*		estimon's
18	Aug. 7	Gillespie		1
4	Aug. 10	Gillespie	- 13	Aug.	10	Gillesp
- 8	Aug. 12	Gillespie	2	Aug.	11	Gillesp
- 73	Aug. 13	Gillespie				10000
- 12	Aug. 14	Gillerpic		1
12		McKew				i
		Gillespie		1
4		Gillespie
140	Aug. 16	Gillespie		1
131			20	-

The Death Rate. There were 78 deaths vesterday, and 43 of them were children under five years of age.

The causes of death were: farasmus,. casping cough.

INSANE

the Asylum at Amityville.

Arthur Halliday, son of the Rev. S. B. Halliday, the venerable ex-assistant pastor of Plymouth Church and lifelong friend of the late Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, was removed to a private asylum for the instance of his parents, who entertained grave fears of his ability to care for tal weakness. Some of the greatest men that himself while at large owing to his mind becoming suddenly deranged.

Shortly after 11,30 o'clock yesterday morning Arthur Halliday entered the Second Precinct Police Station and, after taking a personal observation of the interior of the place, walked up to the desk where Sergt, Crowe was busily engaged entering reports on the blotter. The Sorgeant recognized Halliday and spoke pleasantly to him. The latter, however, began to talk wildly. The Sergeant noticed that something was wrong and invited Halliday into the private room adjoining. Halliday's eyes were glassy and had a faraway look, while his features were pallid. His lips were parched and pale. As Sergt. Crowe has been a warm personal friend of Halliday for some time past and knew that his mind was somewhat deranged, he notified the latter's parents of his whereabouts and at the same time despatched a messenger to the Charity Commissioners. Dr. Stone, the ex-

the Charity Commissioners. Dr. Stone, the examining physician, promptly responded to the call and after making a careful examination promounced Halliday insane.

In accordance with the wishes of hisparents, the Charity Commissioners issued the customary papers in such cases, and in less than an hour Halliday was on his way to the asylum at Amity-ville. He did seem to recognize his father when the latter spoke to him, but continued his rambling talk. He accompanied the officers without any hesitation. When the cab reached the Long Island Railroad depot he alighted and followed his attendants quietly. He behaved well during the lourney, with but one exception, when he struggled for a brief time to get off at Jamaica. Hamaica. Halliday, father of the unfor-off at Jamaica.

The Rev. Mr. Halliday, father of the unfortunate man, was seen at his residence, corner of Helix and Orange streets, last night by a resorter of The Westle. When sooken to in reference to the cause of his son siliness, the reverend gentiferior replied, between sobs. "that he never thought his boy would be a lunatic."

Arthur was always a good man. he added. "and his mistortime is a sad blow to me. He has been acting strangely for some years past, but little attention was paid to him, as I thought his would set over his temporary filness. This morning he left home in the best of spirits, and I was greatly surprised to learn that he strayed into the station-house.

"To what do you attribute his illness?"

"Well, I don't know, unless it be that his brain was affected when very young," said the venerable clerayman. "When but a mere child he was continually expressing a wish to go to school. In order to please him I made arrangements with the school teacher of the lowest primary class to take him as a pupil but to allow him to learn nothic glor fear of inturing his hand. This he considered was play and took delight in going to school. However, everything he seemed to hear he would memorize a die able to repeat when he came home. As a child he was unusually bright and took great delight in reading books. For years past I have noticed a marked change almost daily in his manner, but of late he seemed to be improving. I never realized it had come to its worst until I saw the poor fellow going away to-day.

The old gentleman then begged to be excused and ioned his write in the handsome parlor of his pretty home.

Arthur Halliday is thirty years old and is well known in Brookin. Of late he has head to be all to be all the wealth and the head to be all to be all the pool of the perty home.

and joined his wife in the handsome parior of his pretty home.

Arthur Halliday is thirty years old and is well known in Brooklyn. Of late he has led a life of leisure. He is prominently known among the business men of Wall and Broad streets. New York, with whom he associated be-fore his recent illness.

Nuptial Day at the Great Plattdeutsche Vo'kstest.

Their Offers of Free Prescriptions and How Countless Thousands of Merrymakers at Union Hill.

> Emma Metzger and Wilhelm Schmidt to Be United Amid Mediæval Ceremonies.

> There is another great outpouring of Gotham's German citizens to-day to the famous Schuetzen Park picnic grounds at Union Hill, N. J.

> The Plattdeutsche Volksfest Verein of New York and its vicinity is celebrating its fifteen h annual festival there, and this is the third day of the great celebration.

> town is in duty bound to contribute all in his power to make the festival a success, and the doings of the first two days have shown what could be done in this line. East side greeers, butchers, bakers, and to the combined insic of the fillety-and nine bands, which never seem to get out of wind or fail in lung power.

In the evening fireworks, dancing and music are on the card and fun flows fast and furious on big dancing platforms and about the little round refreshmen. tables.

President John Riefe and Secretary Ernst Kuhlmann say that this is the most successful P a tdeutsche Volksfest that has ever been held in New York, and among those who have assisted them in carrying through the big celebration are Hemen Meyborg, Webrenberg, Ohmstedt, Brunke, Haller, Colpe, Gober, Heyer, Waiters, Heyer, Rohwelt, Knoop, Aleling, Rohens, Papstein, Maricus and Wilkens.

The great feature of the celebration to-day is the public wedding of Miss Emma Metzger and Wilbelm Schmitt, on the fair grounds, with imposing ceremonics.

with imposing ceremonies.

The ch ef personage at the celebration of the nuprisals is Herr W. Von Oyen, and after the wedding there will be a bridal procession through the park in the real German style, in accordance with the time-honored custom of the Plattdeutsche.

ness of temperament and a want of capacity, while a retreating forehead is a sign of originality, brilliancy of conception and moral courage." As I was not ready to dispute my friend's theory, and indeed had no interes at high noon) - Say, Mister P'iceman, what is this yer high noon? I kent find it in the d'rectery.

Have a weakening effect, rausing less of strength and a languer of mind as well as body. This condition permits the development of affections and diseases otherwise in-active. In such cases the system readily rallies under

You see the evening was very warm and they must have leaned their heads against the E .- They say Cleveland never smiles when he talks about the last campaign, F.—No wonder. After a m n's front teeth have been pulled or knocked out he rarely (From the Epoch.)
Hayseed (invited to a wedding to take place

Hot Days

lazy. "Well, then, why don't you give him a modal for his persistency?" A Preclous Relie. D. That's a very funny old cane you have got there. I'd like to buy it from you. 336 East Thirty-ninth street, 18 months, jairbox; 8 months, diarrhox; 16 months. E. Can't sell it. It is an old family heir-

Her Help Is Needed.

Zenlous Little Workers.

ANNIE GORMAN, 11, Seventy Cents from Kittle. to the Editor of The Evening World six little girls at a hop given at Rainbow Inn.

of the hotel.

We have, since the fair, collected twenty one articles of clothing for the babies and child to procure a splint. S. AND L. M. Messenger Boys Send $3.10.

For Little May.

191 Montague street, Brooklyn, N. Y. Bell and Hammer Again. nings we may be able to do some good for suffering infants. We have been looking in

BELL AND HAMMER.

NELL MELSON'S VISITS. Her Meeting with a Poor but Proud of a morning's work among the poor:

310 East Thirty-third street, sixty-five years,
Bright's disease.
300 East Thirty-third street, six weeks, bronchitis.
623 First avenue, six years, ectema; five and a half years, burntarin.
533 East Thirty-eighth street, nineteen months. Summer complaint; two and a half years, summer complaint.
332 East Thirty-eighth street, two years; debility six years, debility; seven years, ulcertated face; forty years, malaria; thirty-mine malaria; forty-three years, uniaria.
307 East Thirty-eighth street, two years, dentition; two and a half years, marasinus.
314 East Thirty-inth street, two years, sore eyes.

hemorrhage.
4. First avenue, 2 years, messles; 3½ years, scrofula.
318 East Thirty-third street, 2½ years. diarrhoe. 330 East Thirty-third street. 8 weeks, scrofing cough.

304 East Thirty-third street, 3 months, diarrhous; 7 months, diarrhous; 4 years, whoopliarrheea; 7 months, diarrheea; 4 years, whooping cough. 324 East Thirty-third street, 6 years, bronchoabs First avenue, 15 months, diarrhea; 11 months, diarrhea; 20 months, scrofula; 15 months, diarrhea.

343 First avenue, 10 months, bronchitis.
527 First avenue, 20 months, diarrhea.
517 First avenue, 30 years, rheumati m; 17 mo ths, whooping cough; 2 years, whooping cough; 404 East Twenty-pinth street, 3 years, whooping cough; 2 years, Summer complaint; 25 years, Summer complaint; 25 years, blouchitis; 4 years, whooping cough; 2 years, years, pour cough; 15 months, brouchitis; 3 diarrhees. East Twenty-ninth street, 2 years, diaryears, diarrhoss, 405 East Twenty-ninth street, 2 years, rhoss; I year, diarrhoss; 40 years, sprain. The first case is indescribably sad, since there is neither cure nor retief for her, and she is without friends, without a home, without a bed and without money. We find her on a sofa that a compassions'e neighbor has allowed her to occupy, tossing about on the narrow bed in the most excruciating pain; throwing her arms above her head, as it to clutch at up-cen bein; tormented by a thirst quilts cover her feet, and when the doctor uncovers them she buries her face in her pillow, and the way she shrinks from his touch and draws handfuls of gray hair down over her ears, as though to deaden sensation, shows how acute her endurance must be.

twisted like a rope.

here than go back. I don't need much, only a bed and a sip of milk. She lets me lie here bandage."

pumped. The doctor finds the mother and asks why

"Yes, to be sure she breaks them-ten week-but nursing-bottles are cheaper than prescriptions and I'd rather have them." a tenement section where the whole neighborhood seems to be out on the sidewalk or hanging out the window. Tiers and tiers of heads in units and c usters protrude from the melancholy buildings, and hang there gazing stamped upon their little faces.

"We got this wood down by the river.

"She does not need anything," she save 'The child is ill and has been ailing since June, but there is a young doctor in Belle has seared its outline on the smooth, white check.

of physicians. If the gentleman will again send his card to

East Thirty-ninth street, the mother of seven young children and the wife of a consump-

Uplifted cross, Counteth for it The world well lost, Chanty which from it floweth Findeth voice in blessed deeds, Pity for earth's poor it showeth Is not hedged by narrow creeds Within its sweep In lowly hovel Or lofty hall;

And none are dross," Is written upon The litted cross. Dost thou believe this? Wouldst thou know the noblest Joy there is below? Help thou the fallen

The following young ladies, Misses Minnie

INPANTS treated with MONELL'S TERTHING CORDIAL skills testing are not iretful. Price 35 cents.

Every true and loyal Plattdeutscher in beer-garden proprietors have shut up shop, one and all, without a thought of the profits they are losing, to join in the throng of pil-grims to Schnetzen Park, and the great Teutonic thoroughfares, where the Plattde tonic thoroughtares, where the Plattdeutsche c emen most does congregate, are to day deserted and still.

There are ninety-nine Plattdeutsche organizations in New York, composing an active membership of more than 15,000 able bodied en. Every one of these societies turns out in all its gorgeous regalia, each with its all its gorgeous regalia, each with its band and drum-major, and an imposing spectacle they all make.

This is where the usefulness of the German street band comes in. They are most all Plattdeu schers, and on an occasion of this kind their services are in great demand.

They are all out at Schuetzen Park, and will remain there until the festivities are will remain there until the festivities are over, combining business with pleasure in the most approved fashion.

It is estimated that there are more than thirty thousand pelpevery day at the park, but no one has yet been able to figure up the amount of beer that has been consumed.

Despite this enormous gathering, however, hardly a single case of disorderly conduct is reported, and that only among outside visitors, who have not vet got seasoned to the German national beverage.

The 39,00 merrymakers find plenty to occupy their time between their libations to Gambrinus in parades, drills, target-shooting, games, dancing, singing and listening to the combined music of the ninety-and nine bands, which never seem to get out of wind or fail in lung power.

In the evening fireworks, dancing, and

The " Hulging Brow " Superstition. " That man has a fine forehead," I said today to a friend on the street, as a person with a perpendicular forehead of great amplitude passed us. But my friend, who was a physimarked 'Humph! Not necessarily. There is not a more groundless fancy abroad in the land than that about fine forcheads. Any of great interest, and that a narrow of the parents, who contertained grave fears of his ability to care for this most while at large owing to his mind beever lived, whose genius and force of char-acter have everted the greatest influence on history and civilization, have had these low or retreating brows, which are popularly called wesk foreheads. The list of them includes Alexander the Great, Frederick the Great, Savon-arola, Sir Thomas Browne, Calvin, Bunvan, Darwin, Emerson, Gambetta, Lafayette, Washington and even Lavater himself, the founder of phreuplogy, the savs that perfounder of phrenology, who says that per-pendicularity of the forehead indicates cold-

[From Texas Siftings. Visitor-My name is Scribbler. I sent you several contribations. Is there anything among them you can use?

Editor—Yes, the postage stamps.

the influence of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood, tones and strengthens the digestive organs, and influent fresh life and energy. Try is this season,